

IQWIG AUTUMN SYMPOSIUM 2024

THE SPEAKERS

IN ALPHABETICAL ORDER

Dr Elisabeth Jurack:

has been a consultant for science communication and public relations at the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Bonn since 2021

After graduating in molecular life science in 2011, Elisabeth Jurack worked as a press and public relations officer at the University of Bonn. She has also been a producer for the podcast "Exzellent Erklärt" ("excellently explained") for several years and works as a freelance trainer for science communication.

Dr Philipp Niemann:

has been Scientific Director of the National Institute for Science Communication (NaWiK) since January 2019

Philipp Niemann holds a doctorate in media studies and was a junior research group leader in the Science Communication department at the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT) until the end of 2018. His research focus lies in the field of science communication is qualitative reception research. He studied Political and Media Science at the University of Trier and International Journalism at Hamline University Saint Paul, Minnesota.

Phillip Schrögel:

has been a research coordinator and science communicator at the Käthe Hamburger Centre for Apocalyptic and Post-Apocalyptic Studies (CAPAS) at Heidelberg University since 2021.

Phillip Schrögel received his diploma in physics from the University of Erlangen-Nuremberg, specializing in radiation and medical physics. He then obtained a Master's degree in Public Policy with a specialization in Science and Technology Policy at the Harvard Kennedy School of Government as a McCloy Scholar of the German National Academic Foundation.

Since September 2014, he has been working independently with an office for science and technology communication.